

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Captain F. O. Armstrong was officially notified Monday that Danielson's new military organization has been designated as Service Battery 1934 Artillery (165 M.M. Gun), C. N. G.

Captain Armstrong also was notified that the command will be at Camp Devens for the annual encampment June 12 to 15 inclusive. He is instructed in the orders that all drills of the command between now and the time for the encampment be devoted to preparing the men for the period they will spend at Devens.

The company will meet this evening for weekly drill. The command is yet without its equipment of uniforms and military rifles, but it is expected that all of this material will arrive here in the near future.

Application has been filed by the Feltz Bros. service for a permit to operate as bus lines over the routes now covered between Mousump and Putnam. This application, filed with the public utilities commission, being in accord with provisions of an act recently passed by the legislature. The application filed by the local line was the second to be received by the commissioners, but it is expected that all of the various parts of the state are being filed daily.

On a date to be announced the public utilities commission will hold a hearing on the application for the permit. In the meantime all competing public services, corporations, the selection of routes through which the local bus lines operate, the warden and court of burgesses of Danielson and the mayor and common council of Putnam will be notified, in accordance with the terms of the new law, of the pendency of the hearing so that they may be represented there, if they wish.

The hearing may be held in Danielson, Putnam or any other town through which the local bus lines furnish service. Just where it is to be held will be announced in all probability at the same time as the announcement of the date.

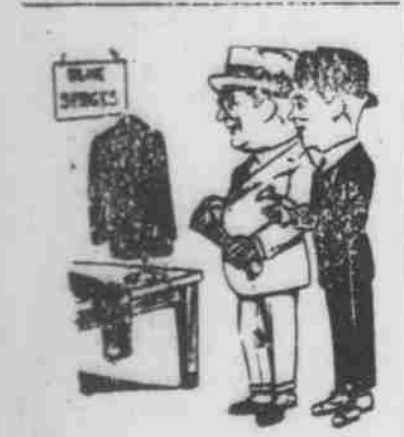

Brown university students present the comedy "David Garrick" at Orpheum theatre tonight (Tuesday). Tickets, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00.

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Josephine Hopkins was held from her home in Hopkins Mills with services conducted by Rev. William Durfee of Oskow, B. L., at the Hopkins Mills church. The choir of the church sang at the service which was attended by many relatives and friends. Burial was in the Hopkins Mills cemetery. The bearers were Lester Simmons, Frank Simmons, Luther Cole, Elmer Hopkins, John Curtis and Lewis Adams. A. F. Wood was the funeral director.

Rev. J. W. Hesse has accepted a call to become pastor of the Baptist church here and will take up his work in Danielson at the completion of his studies at Yale university where he has been doing some special work within a few weeks. Rev. Mr. Hesse has been supplying the pulpit at the Baptist church for several months and there has been established between the members of the congregation and himself a cordial feeling and understanding that recently resulted in a unanimous call to him to become pastor. Rev. Mr. Hesse is a young and forceful man.

PUTNAM

The selective service board for District No. 14, Conn., including the towns of Putnam, Killingly, Thompson, Woodstock, Eastford and Ashford, received on Monday from the war department a list of 22 men who were or should have been registrants of this district and who are listed as not having fully complied with the selective service regulations and are rated as deserters.

The list of names is not available for publication until released by the war department, and the release will not be made until members of the local board have had an opportunity to investigate the selective service regulations and are rated as deserters.

The members of the local board—Dr. J. B. Kestel, chairman, and Attorney Charles L. Torrey of this city and Edward A. Sullivan of Danielson—are fully cognizant of the fact that there is a possibility of some young men being listed as deserters who served his country faithfully during the war; of the fact that some served under assumed names, while in other cases the discrepancy in names is accidental.

It will be the duty of the local board to inquire as closely as may be possible relative to the records of the 22 men appearing on the list pertaining to this district. At least a dozen of the 22 are foreign born residents of the district and of nationality almost entirely unfamiliar with the English language and what was required of them under the selective service law. Most of them, as aliens were not subject to draft, but were required to fill out questionnaires, which they did not do, or otherwise failed to comply with the law.

The cases of the other ten will require careful investigation. It was stated Monday. Members of the board will give prompt attention to the duty imposed upon them in checking up the deserters list for this district.

Any ex-service man who has reason to believe that his record is not clear may be told by inquiry of any member of the board as to this, but unless his name appears in the list he cannot be given any information as to the names that do, for the present.

A group of men charged with various minor offenses appeared before Judge M. H. Geisler in the city court Monday morning. Raymond Sheldon, of Webster, was fined $10 and costs of $2 for operating a car here some time ago without having an operator's license. Another count relative to his car being equipped with illegal headlights was noted. Mr. Sheldon explaining that he had been told that the lights were legal. One style of lens made by the company that supplied the lenses on Sheldon's car, the legal, but it happened that he had another style made by the company and not legal lenses in the state of Connecticut.

William Winslow, for having been intoxicated, was fined $20 and costs of $10.40. Neban Viena pleaded guilty to intoxication. He had two quarters, which he had obtained before coming into force of the Volstead act and had taken only a drink or two a day. He explained that he happened to have half pint left because there were periods when he did not drink of the liquor more often than once in six months. Judge Geisler sentenced Viena to serve 30 days in jail and pay the costs of court.

William Winslow, for having been intoxicated, was fined $20 and costs of $10.40. George Lee, of Passaic, admitted that he had been in a motor vehicle in the city under a registration number that he had faked. The attention of Captain J. H. Bulger was called to the matter, and he was fined $10 and costs of $10.40.

Louis Benoit pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft of an automobile tire and was adjourned for one week to permit him to get counsel.

State Attorney Charles E. Seals said Monday that he is not certain when the prisoners held at Brooklyn jail or who are out under bail awaiting presentation in the superior court of the county in answer to charges of a criminal nature will be put to trial at Williamstown. The court is scheduled to open today (Tuesday), but it is not possible for a judge is available to hold court. Advancement of one superior court judge to supreme court and failure of the legislature to confirm the appointment of Judge Marvin leaves no qualified jurist to sit here in Windham county, as all of the other judges are busy holding court in other counties.

Mr. Seals said he hoped that it may be possible to open the term of court Thursday of this week, but for the present the whole matter of opening the session is uncertain.

Clerks in a main street store received a scare Monday morning when a man named Edward J. Lohr, of Webster, crashed against a show case and then tumbled across the store and smashed into another fixture. His condition indicates a concussion, but a physician who was summoned for him said the man was suffering from an attack of heat, and subsequent developments showed that he was not hurt.

Small boys and some other boys were not so small, were interested Monday in the fact that the Frank J. Murphy show was engaged in pitching their tents on the Tatham lot out on Grove street, making ready for the evening's opening of the first outdoor tented attraction of the season in Putnam. The group of shows is making its first appearance in this section of New England and the variety of its entertainments was surprising to many who visited the grounds.

Handful of members of St. Mary's parish were at the church during Monday for the Forty Hours' Devotion, which will close with a high mass this (Tuesday) morning. There were a number of visiting priests from eastern Connecticut parishes here Tuesday.

At least one bus line operating between this city and nearby towns has been filed with the public utilities commission, under a newly enacted law, a permit for continuing the service. The request will be considered at a hearing to be held either in Putnam or Danielson at an early date by the public utilities commissioners.

Under an arrangement brought about by Postmaster Alexander G. Gahan, a motor mail service has been inaugurated in order that Boston and Worcester papers can be brought here from Worcester in time to connect with all B. & F. D. service out of this city. The motor car engaged in the service leaves Webster at 6:30 and arrives here at 7:30 a. m.

Rev. John C. Stoddard, new pastor of the Baptist church is expected to bring his family here from Rockport, Mass. Thursday of this week.

Mrs. Sarah Bosworth Bradley of Eastford, a real daughter of the Revolution who has just passed her 100th birthday, is reported in good health and in possession of her faculties.

It was indicated Monday that not all of the persons who own dogs in Putnam have registered them with Town Clerk David Flagg. Such delinquent owners are now subject to paying an extra dollar as penalty for not registering the animals prior to May 1.

All along state roads in this part of Connecticut and across the border in Rhode Island little roadside stands or stores are being put up for the sale of ice cream, candy, fruits, vegetables, flowers, etc. It has been established that motorists patronize these little stands generously, and it is to them that the vendors are catering.

The annual convention of the Windham county W. C. T. U. will be held in this city tomorrow (Wednesday).

Just before 5 o'clock Monday evening the fire department was called to extinguish a blaze on the roof of the dwelling owned by A. D. Lewin on Pleasant street. The blaze which burned off about a third of the roof, is believed to have been caused by sparks from the chimney. Good judgment in using chemicals saved the interior of the house from serious damage. Sparks from the fire kindled another blaze on the roof of the Fisher dwelling nearby, but this flame was immediately put out.

Middletown.—The Middletown real estate board, consisting of 12 prominent dealers of Middletown, who recently organized in the interests of more business and better methods, has made the important announcement that after May 15 there would be an increase in the sales commissions charged by the members of the board.

WESTERLY

Mrs. Fleischman of Pawtucket, who attended Mrs. Myron Plympton at the time of her illness, was the first witness to take the stand Monday morning in the case of Myron Plympton vs. Dr. J. De Vere Barber, being tried before Judge George Brown at the Westernly session of the superior court for Washington county. In her testimony, Judge Chester W. Barrows entered a decree dismissing the bill in equity brought by the state of Rhode Island to enforce the state board of public roads against the Frank W. Coy Real Estate company and others by which it was sought to restrain the respondents from closing up or obstructing the new Shore road or that portion of the road leading through the farm owned by the respondents. At the hearing, before Judge Barrows, it was claimed by the respondents that the state showed no inclination to perform the terms of the contract and Judge Barrows was asked to enter a decree dismissing the bill. After hearing counsel Judge Barrows entered a decree dismissing the bill brought by the state to restrain the respondents from closing the part of the new shore road that runs through their land. John J. Dunn of Westerly and Lewis A. Waterman of Providence appeared for the Coy company and Mrs. Welch.

Work was once more resumed on the Westernly sewerage system Monday morning on Main street, opposite the opera house. Due to the refusal of local laborers to work on a sliding scale of wages, laborers from Loxminster, Mass., former employees of O'Donnell Bros., Inc., the local contractors, have come here to work Monday morning, and the contractors plan to add to the number daily. The old boat house on Main street was being renovated and fixed up as a barracks for the out-of-town laborers.

An ordinance making daylight saving effective from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September was passed at the May meeting of the Westernly town council Monday morning in the town building. But five of the councilmen were present. A. D. Dutton, Howard Thorpe, George H. Harper, Clifford W. Campbell and George C. Moore. The daylight saving ordinance was proposed by George Harper and seconded by George Moore. The measure was adopted by a vote of 2 to 1 for the measure.

Permission to play Sunday baseball at Douglas Athletic Beach, near the shore of the Atlantic Ocean, was granted by the Bradford Dyeing Association, and Narragansett council, No. 21, K. of C., were granted permission to play Sunday ball on Riverside park.

Tavern licenses were granted the Ocean House, the Plympton House, the Oaks and Charles H. Murray for a boarding house at Atlantic Beach, near the shore of the Atlantic Ocean, was granted by the Bradford Dyeing Association, and Narragansett council, No. 21, K. of C., were granted permission to play Sunday ball on Riverside park.

Monday morning there were six cases presented by the state police and was held at 10 o'clock, standard time. Judge Frank Hinckley, in the town court, Elmer Doyle of Groton for violating the auto law, under section 1237 of the laws of the state of Connecticut. All were fined $10 and costs total $22.06. Walter B. Broadfoot, also of Westerly, R. I., and Peter Bamasconi of the town of Westerly, were taken by the state police for defective lights. All paid. Charles E. Coon of Westerly, before the court on a charge of reckless driving, was found guilty and fined $25 and costs. Total $46.21. He paid. David E. Lamphear, of Stonington, who it is alleged committed burglary on Dec. 15, and entered the house of Daniel Tift, of Old Mystic, charged with stealing $100. Probable cause was found and he was bound over to the superior court on $100 bond.

MYSTIC

Mrs. Sophie A. Packer Noyes, 62, widow of John M. Noyes, died Monday morning about 5 o'clock at her home on Church street, following a little more than a week's illness from grip which developed into pneumonia. Mrs. Noyes was the daughter of John Eldridge Packer and Sophie A. Schoonmaker and was born in New York, Dec. 28, 1857, having been a resident of Mystic about 26 years. She was a kind neighbor and a true and loyal friend, dependable in all her dealings, possessing to a remarkable degree the virtues of truthfulness and sincerity. Although greatly handicapped for many years by almost total blindness, she bore this affliction patiently and was of a cheerful temperament and had a keen sense of humor. She was a great reader and was keenly interested in the events of the day. Her garden and flowers gave her great delight and she generously shared their fruits with her neighbors and friends. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Reuben E. Noyes, and a sister, Miss Mary P. Packer.

Charles H. Hoxie of Boston was a visitor here. Walter H. Lathrop is confined to his home by illness. E. D. Miner of Norwich was a caller Monday. Mr. Walter T. Fish and family, who have been spending the winter in Hartford, have returned to their home on Reynolds Hill.

Miss Phoebe Denison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Denison, has the mumps. Miss Laura Dillingham of New London is a visitor here. Miss Eleanor Davis has been home from Rogers Hall school, Lowell, Mass., for a few days.

COLUMBIA

Reuben Ayer was brought before Justice Raymond Clark, charged with having intoxicating liquor in his possession with intent to sell. He was fined $10, stating, however, that he was employed by the state here in town, who have been discovered to be making and selling moonshine. The paraphernalia for making whiskey which was found on an abandoned farm, was brought by Constable Frink to his house and stored in a room. During Frink's absence, in connection with the case the federal authorities came and seized the property. It being stated that it was to be sent to New Haven. Ayer was fined $10 and $2.51 costs.

At a meeting of the selectmen held on Monday, it was voted to adopt the DeLoe electric lighting system for the town hall. Other electric lighting systems were considered but the DeLoe system was chosen.
